

Traditional Attorney VS Online Divorce

Divorce is expensive, right?

Not necessarily. Couples who want to duke it out in court can expect to drain their bank accounts. But it's over easy offers a better, more affordable way.

Here's why you need to consider an alternative to the traditional divorce.

Traditional

$15,000-
$20,000

17
Months

DIY

$1500

6
Months

The average divorce attorney bills $250 per hour, with rates that go up to $600 or more per hour for the most experienced lawyers. Also, as soon as you bring a lawyer into the process, you ensure it will take longer. There are motions to file, fights to have, and endless letters to send (and bill for).

it's over easy serves your spouse with the divorce forms and files your forms with the court. With it's over easy you won't just wait less time for your divorce, you'll spend less time on it--no lawyers, no court dates, no settlement conferences, no hassle.

Time is Money

The more time it takes to finalize your divorce, the more money you lose.

Childcare costs to see your lawyer and go to court.

Lost time and money at work.

Not receiving the child support you'll eventually be awarded.

Interest payments on debt that may eventually be assigned to your spouse.

You Deserve Better

Let's face it: divorce is no fun for anyone. And lawyers don't exactly turn a difficult situation into a nonstop party.

DIY

Traditional

Research and Interview Attorneys

No time spent researching attorneys

Meet with attorney for preliminary review of assets, etc

Attorney prepares summons

We file for you; no going to the courthouse yourself or with an attorney

Meet with attorney to sign review documents before they file with the court

Attend court dates forcing you to see your spouse who knows how many times

Deal on your own terms - allowing you both to remain civil and keep things amicable

Forced deal created by the court can often create animosity

Lawyers can end up causing more animosity between spouses and cause the process to take longer

Generate your own forms via the platform and sign them via DocuSign, virtually anywhere

Have to go back to court to have final judgment enforced

it's over easy allows the two of you to focus on the things that matter most like your children (where applicable) and your future. Our Blog and FAQ sections are full of helpful tips and insights on divorcing amicably and helping you move forward with your lives.

The old way didn't work for anyone except lawyers.

It left families in a state of turmoil with less money, less time, and less certainty.

There's a better way.

It's what your family deserves.
Give us a try today and see how easy divorce can be.

Start for free